INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors and Shareholder ALFS, Inc.
Northbrook, Illinois

We have audited the following financial statements of ALFS, Inc. (the "Company") (a wholly owned subsidiary of Allstate Life Insurance Company) for the year ended December 31, 2004 that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934:

	9-
Statement of Financial Condition	3
Statement of Operations	4
Statement of Changes in Shareholder's Equity	5
Statement of Cash Flows	6

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards as established by the Auditing Standards Board (United States) and in accordance with the auditing standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of ALFS, Inc. at December 31, 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The following supplemental schedules of ALFS, Inc. as of December 31, 2004 are presented for the purpose of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements, but are supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934:

Ш.	Computation for Determination of Reserve Requirements For Brokers and Dealers Pursuant to Rule 15c3-3 Under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934	10

These schedules are the responsibility of the Company's management. Such schedules have been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, are fairly stated in all material respects when considered in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2004

1. GENERAL

Basis of Presentation—The accompanying financial statements include the accounts of ALFS, Inc. (the "Company"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Allstate Life Insurance Company ("Allstate Life"), which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Allstate Insurance Company ("Allstate"), a wholly owned subsidiary of The Allstate Corporation (the "Corporation"). These financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

Nature of Operations—The Company, a Delaware corporation, is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD").

The Company underwrites certain SEC-registered variable annuity, variable life, and variable universal life contracts which are issued by Allstate Life or one of its affiliates (collectively, the "Affiliates") and contracts with unaffiliated broker-dealers to sell these contracts. The Company also distributes certain insurance products issued by Allstate Life, which are exempt from registration with the SEC, but are required to be sold by persons appropriately registered with the NASD. The Company earns no revenues for these operations and is reimbursed by Allstate Life for all expenses incurred, primarily regulatory fees and other expenses.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Regulatory fees and other expenses—Regulatory fees and other expenses are expensed as incurred and reflect NASD licensing fees, advertising costs, state filing fees and other costs incurred in the normal course of business. An accrual is established for amounts incurred but not yet reimbursed.

General and administrative expenses—General and administrative expenses reflect costs allocated to the Company from Allstate Life or other affiliates of the Corporation for providing administrative activities to the Company. Allstate Life reimburses these expenses on a quarterly basis. An accrual is established for amounts incurred but not yet reimbursed.

Income Taxes—The income tax provision is calculated under the liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based upon the difference between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at the enacted tax rates.

The Company had no differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at December 31, 2004.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and disclosures in the accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

As a registered broker-dealer, the Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1 (the "Rule"), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital, as defined under the Rule, equivalent to the greater of $5,000 or 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, as defined under the Rule.

At December 31, 2004, the Company had net capital, as defined under the Rule, of $150,024, which was $145,024 in excess of required net capital of $5,000. The Company's aggregate indebtedness, as defined under the Rule, was 5% of its net capital.

4. INCOME TAXES

The Company currently joins the Corporation and its other eligible domestic subsidiaries (the "Allstate Group") in the filing of a consolidated federal income tax return and is party to a federal income tax allocation agreement (the "Tax Sharing Agreement"). Under the Tax Sharing Agreement, the Company paid to or received from the Corporation the amount, if any, by which the Allstate Group's federal income tax liability was affected by virtue of inclusion of the Company in the consolidated federal income tax return. Effectively, this results in the Company's annual income tax provision being computed, with adjustments, as if the Company filed a separate return.

The Company did not incur or pay any income taxes in 2004.

5. RELATED-PARTY TRANSACTIONS

Allstate Life reimburses the Company for all expenses incurred in the underwriting and distributing of certain SEC-registered variable annuity, variable life, and variable universal life contracts, which include regulatory fees and other expenses as well as allocations for corporate services and administrative costs from Allstate Life. During the year ended December 31, 2004, the Company incurred expenses of $80,959. Allstate Life reimbursed the Company, $70,908 and $10,051 is due at December 31, 2004.

6. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

In the normal course of business, the Company invests in various financial assets and incurs various financial liabilities. The fair value of all assets and liabilities approximates their carrying value, as they are short-term in nature.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

ALFS, Inc. Northbrook, Illinois

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of ALFS, Inc. (the "Company"), for the year ended December 31, 2004 (on which we issued our report dated February 24, 2005), we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control and of the practices and procedures, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Securities and Exchange Commission's (the "Commission") above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal control or of such practices and procedures to future periods are subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the practices and procedures may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the Company's internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in the Company's internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements caused by error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the Company's internal control and its operation (including control activities for safeguarding securities) that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2004, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
